

Tom Corbett

Corbett has not released a full position paper on education – just a brief paragraph which is available on this page: <http://www.tomcorbettforgovernor.com/issues>

Joe Hoeffel:

Hoeffel has a position statement on education here: <http://joehoeffel2010.com/education>

Dan Onorato:

Higher Ed statement:

http://voteonorato.com/system/storage/59/281/Onorato\_Plan\_for\_Higher\_Education.pdf

Pre-K-12 Statement: http://voteonorato.com/system/storage/59/286/Pre\_K-12\_Education\_Pan.pdf

Sam Rohrer:

(Rohrer doesn't have a piece specific to education either, but there are references to his stance on education in his vision statement, family & policy agenda, and freedom agenda, which are all accessible here: <http://www.samrohrer.org/vision.html>

Jack Wagner:

The only education component we have found on Wagner's web site is a brief statement on higher education affordability, which is imbedded with other issue information here:

<http://www.jackwagner.org/vision/>

Anthony Williams:

There is a brief paragraph about education here: <http://www.williams4governor.com/vision.html>